At the same time, posters were distributed, as hardcopy and email attachments, to all the Polish universities having activity in the geosciences field. Announcements were posted on the Euraxess and NatureJobs web sites, as well as on the ads pages of the relevant major international scientific societies: American Geological Union, Geological Society of America, and European Geosciences Union web sites. A little later, advertisements were also posted on scholarship-positions.com (September 14) and postgraduatestudentships.co.uk (September 16). Posters were also displayed at the joint European Planetary Science Congress – Division of Planetary Sciences joint meeting in Nantes, France (2-7 October 2011). All the advertisements were posted until either the candidate pre-selection date (October 25) or October 31.
